Dan Southerland's latest book, Chair Time, is a collection of inspiring stories about the lives of extraordinary people. The book is full of wisdom, humor, and insight, and it is sure to leave a lasting impression on readers.

Southerland has spent his life interviewing and writing about people from all walks of life. In Chair Time, he shares some of his most memorable encounters with people who have made a difference in the world.

The stories in Chair Time are as diverse as the people who lived them. There is the story of a Holocaust survivor who dedicated her life to helping others. There is the story of a civil rights activist who fought for equality and justice. And there is the story of a war veteran who found peace and healing through art.

Each of the stories in Chair Time is inspiring in its own way. They show us the power of the human spirit and the importance of making a difference in the world.

Southerland's writing is clear and concise, and his stories are easy to read and understand. He has a gift for capturing the essence of his subjects and bringing their stories to life.

Chair Time is a book that will stay with you long after you finish reading it. It is a book that will inspire you to live your life to the fullest and make a difference in the world.

Here are some of the people you will meet in Chair Time:

- Elie Wiesel, Holocaust survivor and Nobel Peace Prize laureate
- Rosa Parks, civil rights activist and pioneer
- John Lewis, civil rights leader and congressman
- Maya Angelou, poet, memoirist, and civil rights activist
- Nelson Mandela, anti-apartheid revolutionary and president of South Africa
- Desmond Tutu, anti-apartheid activist and Archbishop of Cape Town
