

Oops: The Extraordinary Life of Alexandra Warren

Alexandra Warren was born in 1852 to a wealthy family in London, England. Her father was a successful businessman and her mother was a devoted philanthropist. Alexandra grew up in a privileged environment, but she was also exposed to the social injustices that were prevalent in Victorian society. She saw firsthand how women were denied basic rights, such as the right to vote, own property, or receive a higher education.

As a young woman, Alexandra began to get involved in the women's suffrage movement. She joined the National Union of Women's Suffrage Societies (NUWSS) and quickly rose through the ranks. She was a gifted orator and a tireless campaigner, and she quickly became one of the most prominent suffragettes in the country.
